

Temporary Site Plan

- The temporary site is already up/hosted for free.
- We can keep the temporary site for as long as it is needed.
- We can improve the temporary site or not.
- When when we replace with a permanant site, the same payment system can be used.

I'm fine to do the work but have limited time and capacity, so I have tailored the below to what I think I can get done over the next 5 - 6 days.

Timing

- If the decisions are made settled tomorrow (Aug 9) or the next day, I'll should be comfortable done by the end of the week.
- If you are comfortable with deleting the Wild Apricot site and being without a website for a while, then there really isn't any hurry.

Remaining decisions are

1. If we now have control of our domain , "stanislaushumanists.org", we can use it. If not, we can use a temporary one: "stanislaus-humanists.org" is availabl, and could become the permanent one if we needed or decide to.
2. Do we want to put membership (join) on the temporary site. If so, which payment service? Stripe doesn't have the lowest fees but it is an easy integration, and it is compatible with the site I built.

Stripe

I let AI do most of the work of finding the right payment plan. Stripe looks like a reasonable choice and may be the best choice.

If you want a different payment system, there are limitations to which payment systems are compatible with the site I have built, which is called a "static site" (it is mostly static), and does not have a "backend", which some payment systems require.

Info from Stripe

I tried to contact Stripe sales, but they have gated their sales team and non-profit discount info with a business email (not gmail.com) or creating an account, which requires linking a bank account.

This is their generic/standard pricing: <https://stripe.com/pricing#standard-pricing>.

- pay via credit card: 2.9% + 30¢
- pay via debit card: 0.8%

They have discounts for non-profits if you are only taking 'donations'. The discount isn't available for "memberships". However, I looked at the IRS rules and they say donations are 100% deductible if the donator is 'getting nothing in return', like a hat or t-shirt. Even then, if the donation is $25 and the t-shirt is a $5 value, then then $20 is tax deductible. We don't give anything in return so we could just call our membership a 'donation' instead.

Plan

Get the new/temporary site up with as little effort as possible. Then make some changes to it if desired.

1. us: Settle the two above decisions
2. who?: Setup Stripe account (requires some official business info and a bank account to link to).
3. carl: Make the site live.
4. who?: As a buffer, keep the Wild Apricot site live until the deadline to delete as a buffer.
5. carl: Make any minor improvements to the site if needed.

Help I'll need

- Stripe setup because of bank account access. I can do it but will need various details. Once setup I'll need full access until I'm done.
- If we use our existing domain I'll need access to configure it, or help directing it to the new site. If we use a new domain I can do it all.
